How Sisters Touch Lives in Kansas City Area?

The “Religious Sisters Appreciation Day” is a thank you to all the Sisters for what they do and have done for our community through the years.

When we look at the Kansas City area we note the many congregations serving our community in various ways. We have those whose mission is to feed and aid homeless women, going so far as to sleep on the floor and give their beds to the homeless women staying with them.

Others sisters go out into the homes in the community to care for the sick and suffering. They look after both their physical and spiritual needs.

Some sisters take care of the elderly, no matter what their religious affiliation or what their status is in the community. They give them a place to stay and someone to be with them and give comfort when their time comes.

One thing these Sisters have in common is a love of Christ and they hold out their hand to those who might need help without expectation of being repaid.

For this reason Serrans feel that it is only right to set aside a day each year to acknowledge all that the Sisters have done for the people in the Kansas City metro area, in both Kansas and Missouri.

RELIGIOUS SISTERS' APPRECIATION DAY

This is one of a few days we have a chance to acknowledge the wonderful women who serve in the Archdiocese of Kansas City in Kansas and the Diocese of Kansas City – St. Joseph, MO.

The day includes a social hour, where the Sisters can re-new old friendships and make new ones. They have a chance to win some small prizes playing BINGO.

There is a catered meal from Jack Stack BBQ, along with homemade desserts.

Each Sister who attends receives a gift stipend, and after the expenses for the day, any remaining money is available to congregations as grants to help further Religious Women's Vocations.

Religious Sisters dedicate their lives to bringing spiritual and physical comfort to people of all walks of life no matter what their religious affiliation. So we ask that you be generous with your donation.

Thank you.
